The undersigned,

- declares that his/her Dutch driving licence is missing, has been stolen or is destroyed;
- declares that, if the stolen or missing driving licence returns to his/her possession, he/she will immediately hand over this document to the Driving Licences Unit of the RDW in Veendam;
- declares that his/her driving licence has not been revoked or declared invalid;
- declares that he/she is not the holder of another EU/EEA driving licence and that he/she has not made an application to this end;
- endorses that, in case of doubt about the correctness of the Statement of loss, the Dienst Wegverkeer has the right to require an official report drawn up by an official of the Dutch police. The official report will serve as a condition for handling the application for a new driving licence;
- declares that he/she will not make an objection against the Dienst Wegverkeer to check if the provided information is correct.

It is prohibited to provide incorrect information and/or to submit incorrect examples of proof and other documents to obtain a new driving licence. Violation of this prohibition can lead to a fine or imprisonment and/or disqualification from driving. A driving licence that is issued based on incorrect details or documents will be declared invalid. In that case the holder will have to take a driving test before qualifying for a driving licence.
